

Add Value for End Users: Leveraging BIM to drive facilities management

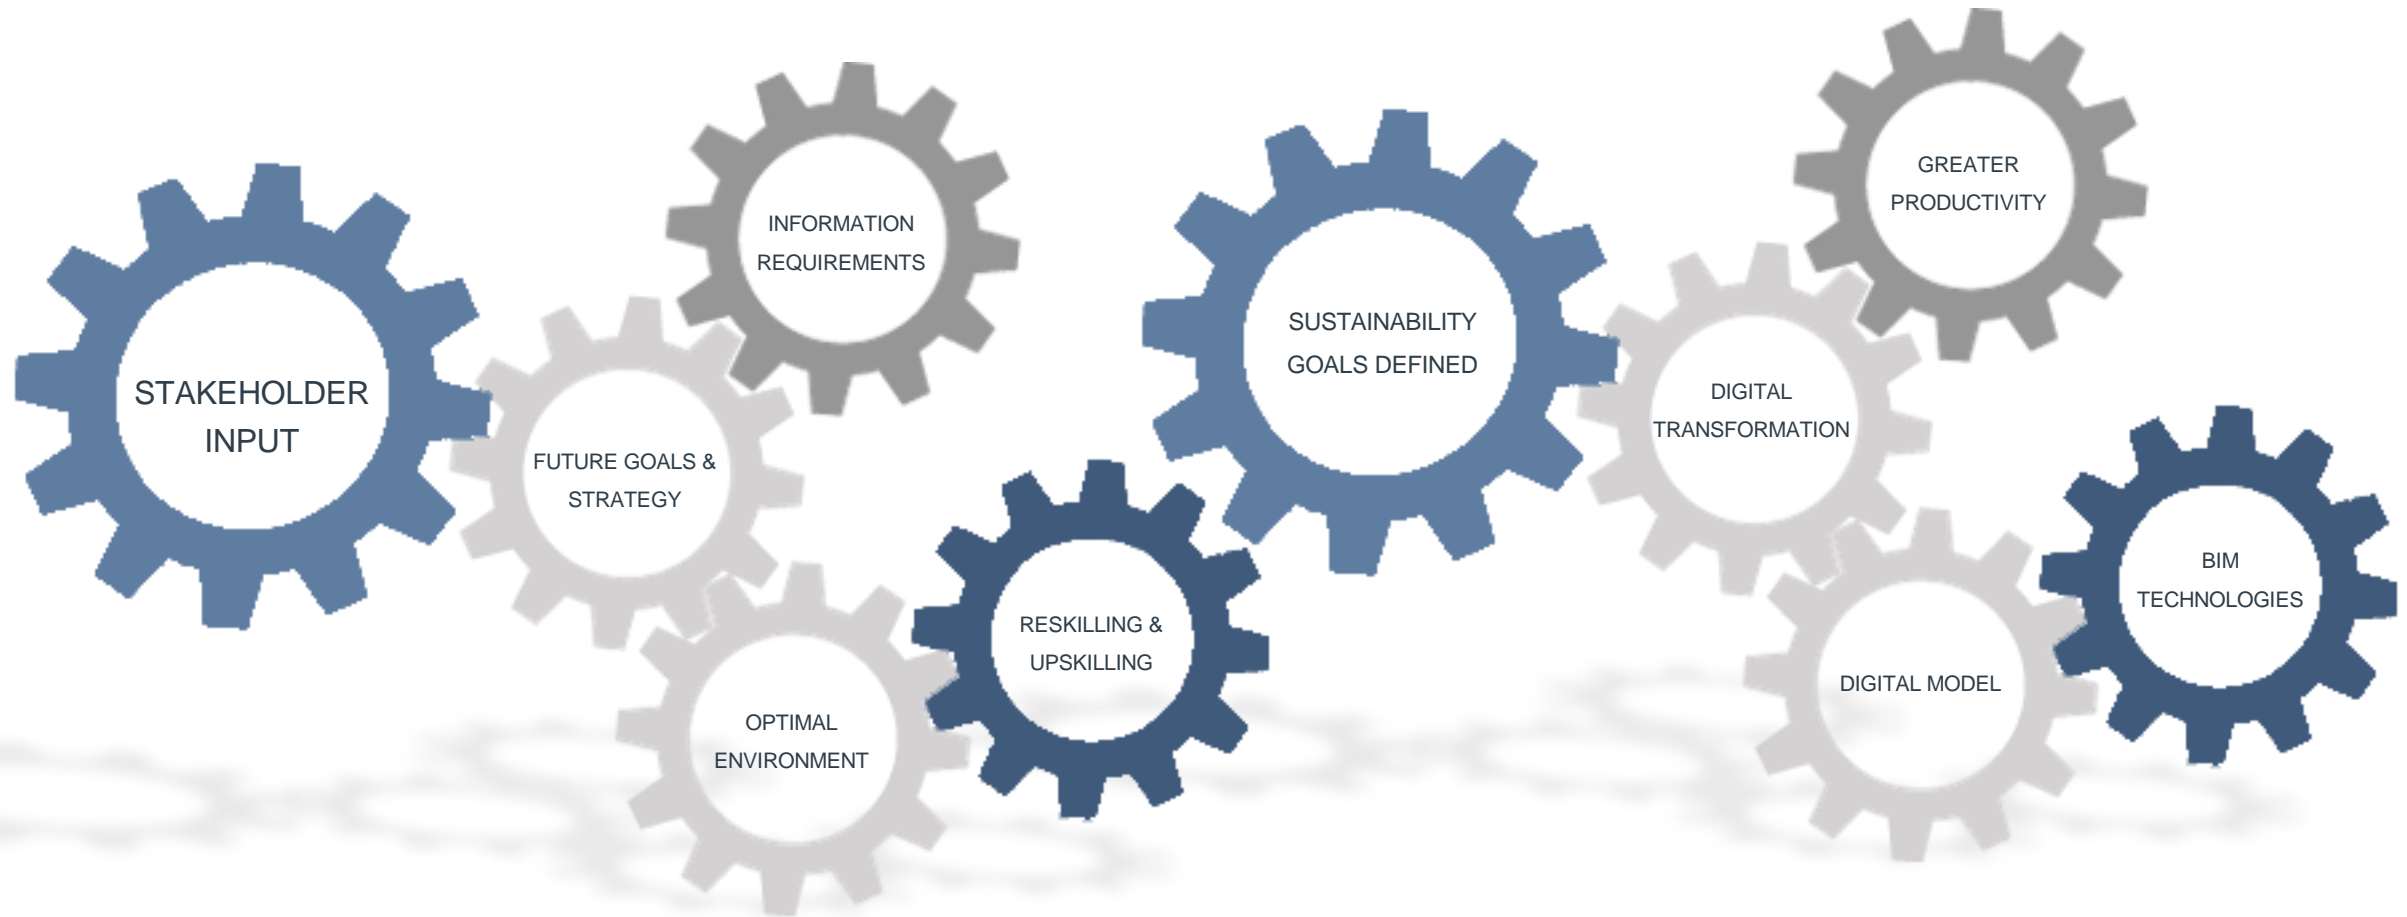

Jen McAuley

Interior Architect
MSc aBIMM, BSc. (Hons) Interior Design & Furniture

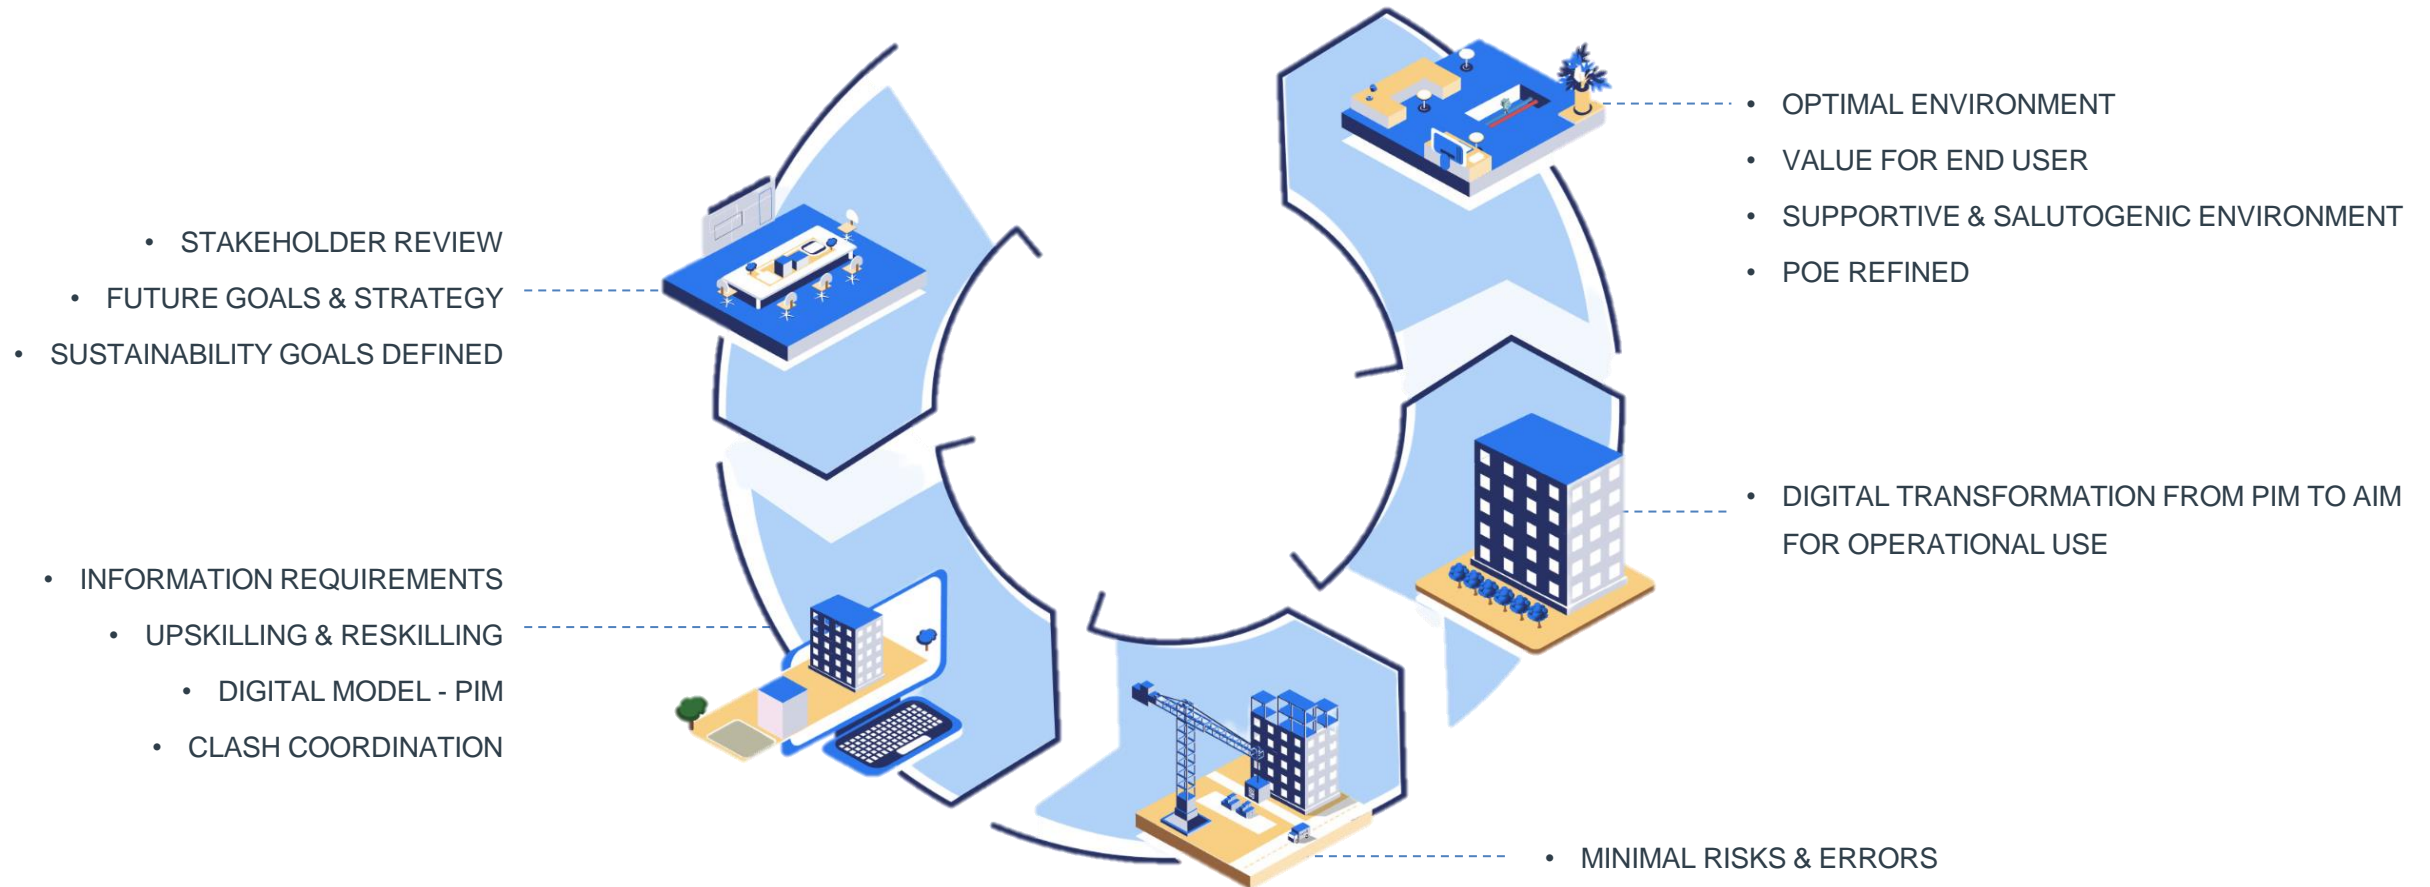

HOW DO WE ADD VALUE FOR END USERS?

This is a non-exhaustive list.

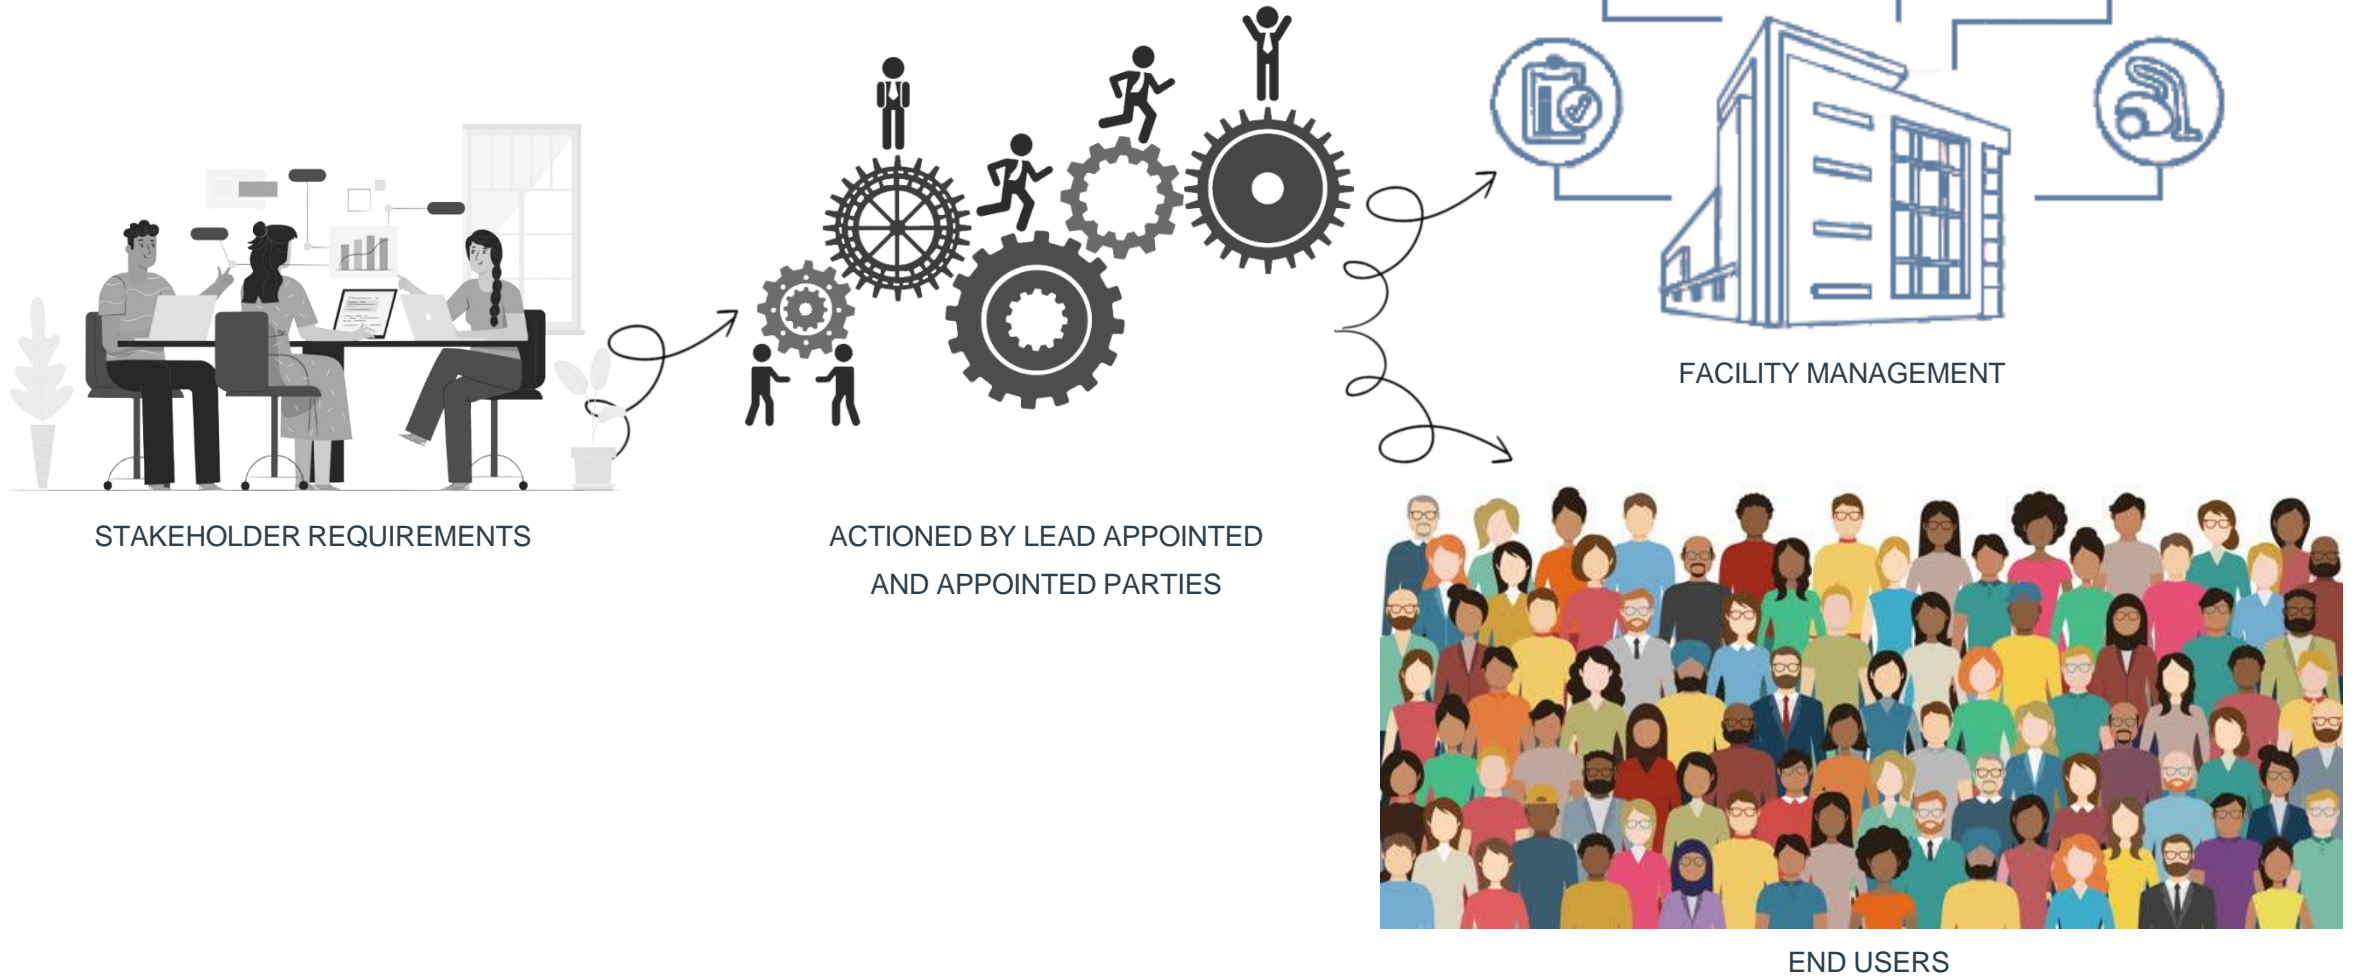

HOW DO WE ADD VALUE FOR END USERS?

This is a non-exhaustive list.

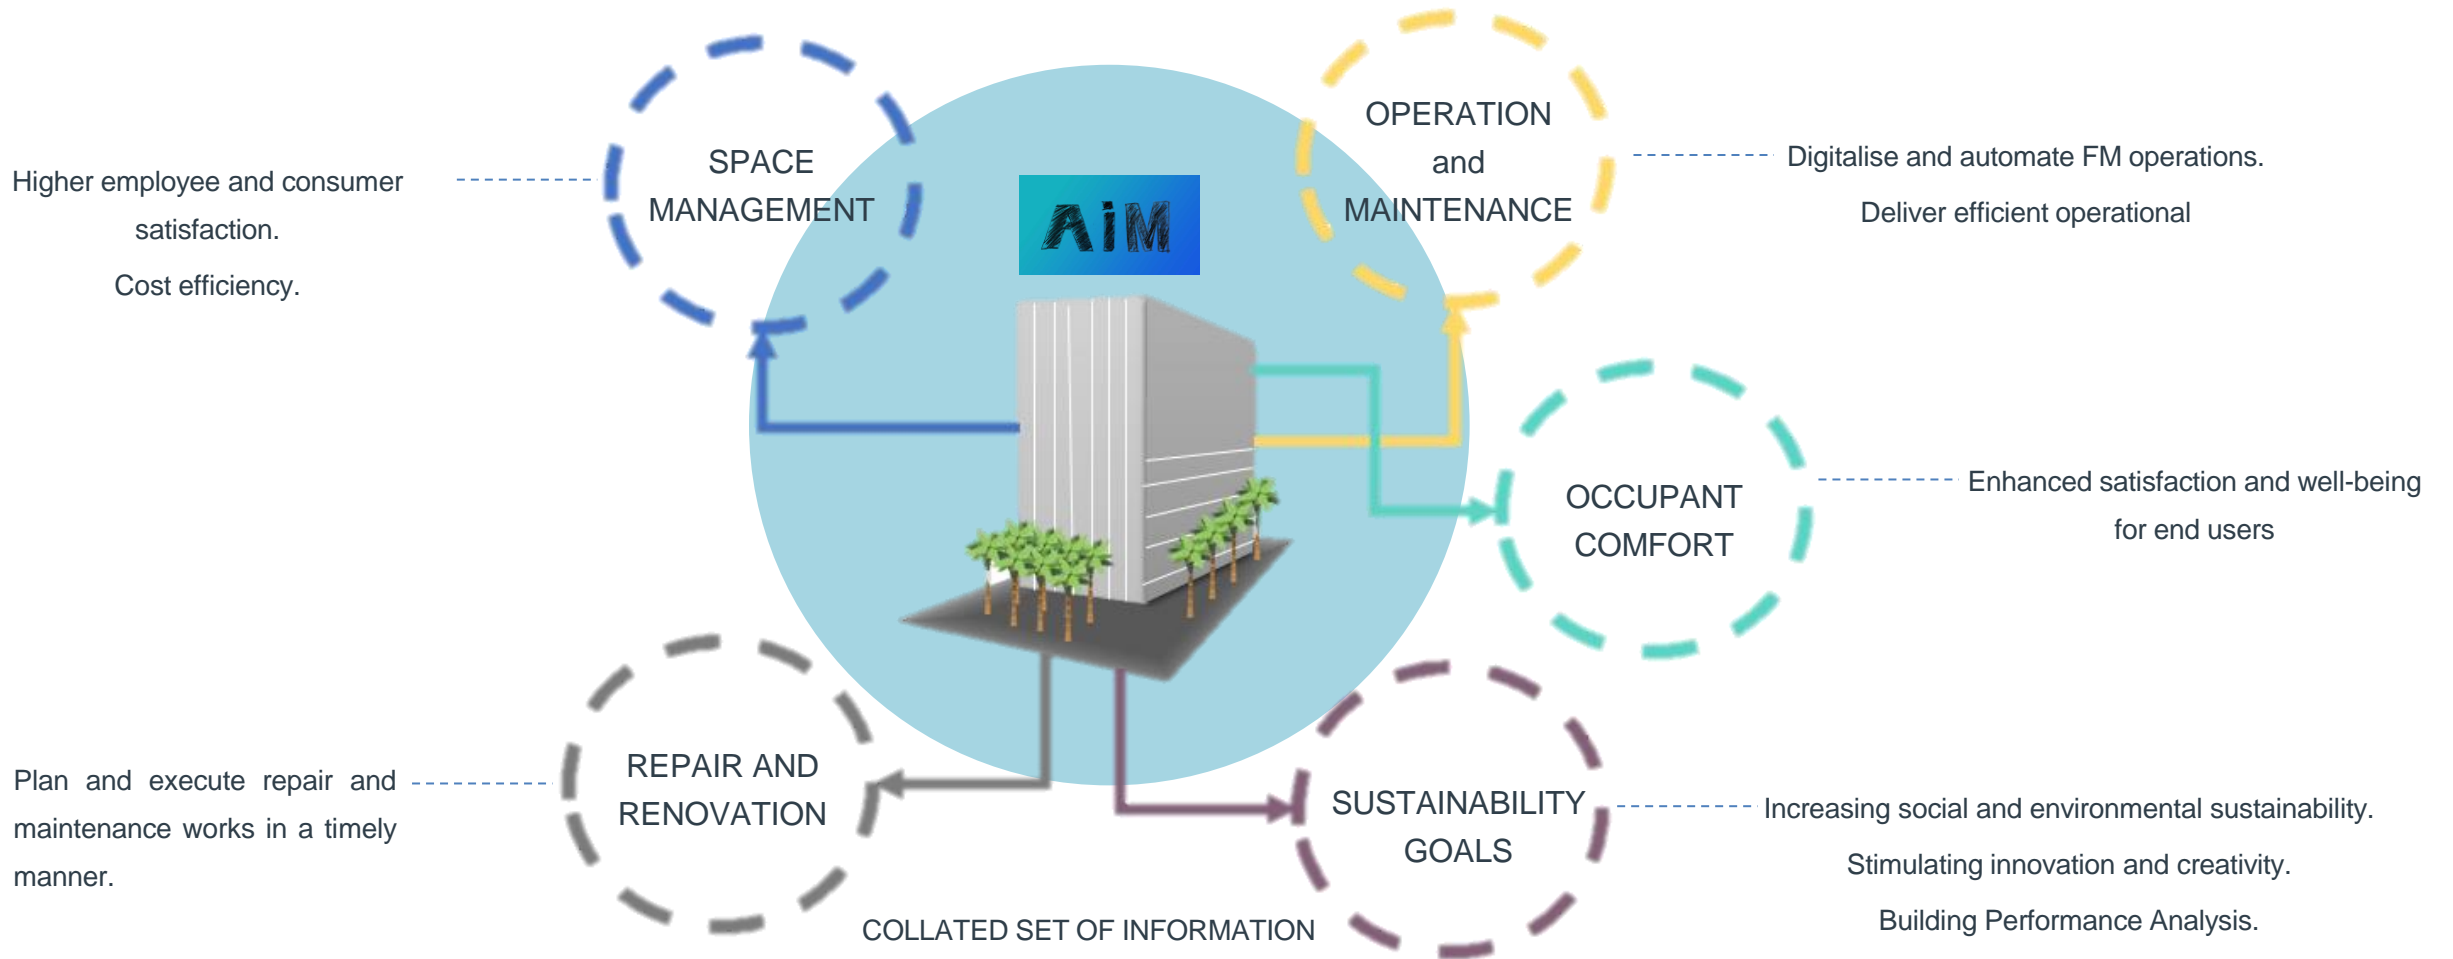

WHO ARE THE END USERS VS. FACILITY MANAGEMENT?

This is a non-exhaustive list.

ASSET INFORMATION MODEL AND ITS STAKEHOLDERS

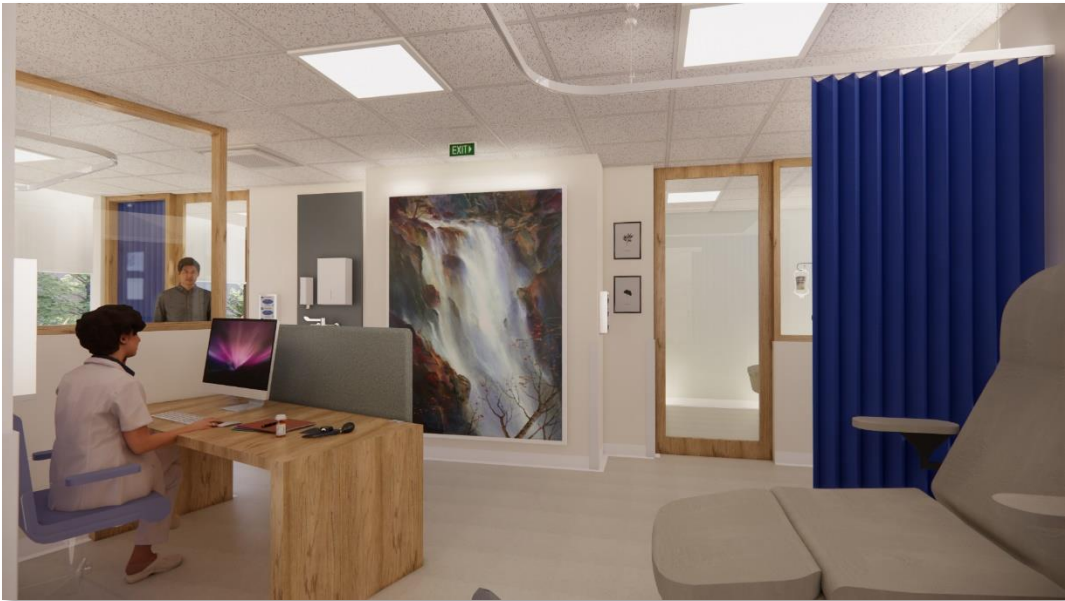

This is a non-exhaustive list.

Existing Oncology Treatment Room

Proposed Oncology Treatment Room

HOW DO WE LEVERAGE BIM TO DRIVE STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT AND ADD VALUE TO THE END USER?

RIPPLE EFFECT

Building a community where we support one another to foster an environment conducive to the growth and collective well-being for end users.

MENTORSHIP AND GUIDANCE

Creating a reciprocal journey of learning and empowerment using digital technology.

COLLABORATION AND TEAMWORK

The notion of achieving common goals through the manifestation of collaborative efforts and teamwork ensures the collective strength surpasses the capabilities of isolated endeavors. Collaborative not only fosters innovation but creates a sense of unity within diverse teams.

THE POWER OF POSITIVITY

Creating a positive environment is a natural byproduct of positive change. Positivity becomes a catalyst for personal and communal growth, enhancing well-being for end users. By fostering a culture of optimism, individuals contribute to a healthier environment and more vibrant social fabric.

INSPIRING SUCCESS STORIES

With industry innovators initiating positive change, it enables individuals to overcome resistance to change through mutual support. Success stories serve as powerful motivation for embracing the philosophy of integration and bringing end users to the forefront of change.

OVERCOMING CHALLENGES TOGETHER

Facing challenges collectively enhances the chances of success. Helping each other reinforces the idea of collective strength to overcome obstacles.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

+353 83 1764443

jen@totarch.ie

TOT ARCHITECTS

CITA